Hong Island is a fascinating, unique and undiscovered natural sight. It is a highlight for every adventurer and nature lover. Visit one of the most beautiful islands in Thailand and enjoy this amazing and extraordinary place. Its name is based on eroded caves, which lie in the centre of the island. Well hidden, it shelters a lake with small sea access. The only way inside can be passed during a short time slot (of about 1 h) and only once a day. When the tides allow to, one can enter inside the Hong Island by canoe.
Otherwise, if there is low tide, the caves are dry and sharp-edged stones as well as mud block the entrance. At high tide the access is completely under water. This little natural wonder makes it even more spectacular. Besides Hong Island we take you to a cave with bats, another exciting place close to mangrove jungles and limestone carsts. Be one of a few to see the natural beauty deep inside of Phang Nga Bay, as it is a unique experience you definitely should not miss.
With a stop at the beautiful restaurant of the fishing village Koh Panyee you can gain back some power by enjoying delicious local food. Furthermore, there will be some time to discover the environment. To round up a beautiful day of culture we will visit the Phang Nga Park when we arrive back on mainland. In addition to beautiful caves and a temple you can sometimes see wild monkeys there.
